

Hmong Women DO Breastfeed!

Changing the narrative on Hmong breastfeeding

Among women have always breastfed

The Motherland

Courtesy of Yang family

- Hmong are a collective society
- Agriculture
- Babies were taken with mothers to the fields or stayed home with caregivers
- Babies breastfed or wet -nursed
- “Yog tsis muaj mis niam me nyuam tsis loj hlob” ( without breastmilk babies can't grow)

Refugees in Northern Thailand

- Many Hmong escaped to Thailand
- Lived in refugee camps (how many were there and who they lived with)
- Babies breastfed and wet nursed
- Babies stayed with mothers

Courtesy of Yang family

Life in Asmesliskas (America)

(Me)

- Many Hmong immigrated to US
- “Americans don’t breastfeed”
- “Breastfeeding is ‘backwards’”
- Reported nurses or doctors did not ask if wanted to breastfeed
- Work or school - formula is more convenient
- Decline in breastfeeding

Courtesy of Yang family

Breastmilk and breastfeeding are IMPORTANT
the Hmong.

Many Hmong believe breastmilk

— — —

- “Powerful”
  - Healing ceremonies
  - Lightning belief
- Nourishes - “giving your child life”
- “The children I breastfed are more obedient and patient with me compared to the children I didn’t breastfeed.”

Courtesy of MDH WIC Program

Hmong women's comments on Hmong Breastfeeding Photo/Art Contest

[Redacted]

A lot of people think I'm crazy for breastfeeding all my children. But when they see how much and how well they've grown, they see that it was the best choice. I'm proud to be Hmong American and breastfeed, making it norm again for my fellow sisters.

[Redacted] you're making the right choice by breastfeeding. Wish I did.

[Redacted]

I love this that they are promoting it more...I used to just want to bottle feed my kids because it was the norm...not until I saw all my sister in laws did it and remind me how healthy it is then I decided to breastfeed...it was one of the great decisions I'm proud that I made

[Redacted]

Loving this! I understand it's not always easy for everyone to achieve this, but raising awareness on the benefits of nursing in the Hmong community will help normalize the breast and encourage our sisters to pursue this beautiful journey.

How does supporting Hmong breastfeeding look?

1. Change the narrative on Hmong breastfeeding
2. Include Hmong pregnant women, mothers, fathers, and elders in breastfeeding outreach and education
3. Amplify Hmong breastfeeding stories
4. Support Hmong lactation consultant education

Thank you!